SUMMARY

A military training area is located 5 kilometers (km) northwest of Kyvrak (Figure 1). It is probably used by the troops billeted in the barracks on the southeast edge of the town.

This military training area covers 530 acres and is comprised of a network of dirt roads for driver training, 2 tracks for moving targets, and 7 small general support buildings (Figure 2).

This facility is covered by KEYHOLE missions [REDACTED] missions reveal no change.

DESCRIPTION OF INSTALLATION

Road Service

Interior dirt roads connect the range and the service area. An access road connects to a hard-surfaced road extending to the nearby town of Kyvrak.

Other Buildings

Seven small, single-story support buildings are located in the training area.

Driver-Training Area

Area M is a training area for light wheeled and tracked vehicles. This area appears to be suitable for training drivers and gunners to fire from fixed and moving platforms at fixed and moving targets from set and variable ranges. Absence of large ground scars indicates that weapons are either small bore or sub-caliber.
